

NRHS MORNING ANNOUNCEMENTS

MONDAY - FEBRUARY 12, 2018

Good Morning and welcome to Granite State Respect week! February is Teen Dating Violence Awareness Month and this year Newfound will be participating in a week-long educational campaign that aims to inform students and the school of the signs of teen dating violence. Throughout the school, you will see posters that outline various forms of unhealthy and abusive behaviors. Please take a moment to learn more about the warning signs of an unhealthy relationship.

Attention juniors:

- Please see Mrs. DeVost in Room 218 to get your Winter Carnival event assignment cards this week.
- The 19th Annual College Convention for High School Juniors & Parents is a free event inviting all Juniors to attend a day of information, drawings, scholarships and a college fair. Each year a N.H. College/University sponsors the event making it possible for high school Juniors and their parents to attend mini workshops, college information events, scholarship give-away drawings and an opportunity to attend a College fair with many New England Colleges on site. This year's convention will be at Southern New Hampshire University on Saturday, April 7, 2018 from 8:30 a.m. - 2:30 p.m.

To sign up and register do so ASAP at www.destinationcollege.org. This event fills up fast, so act quickly!

The unified basketball team will be having their Senior Game this afternoon at 3:15 against Berlin.

There will be a brief honor roll celebration in the café at the end of the day. Students will be called down.
